FACE AND HEAD AN AWFUL SIGHT

Eruption Broke Out when 2 Weeks Old—Itched So He Could Not Sleep—Hair All Fell Out—Cuticura Cured Him.

"I wish to have you accept this testimonial, as Cuticura did so much for my baby. At the age of two weeks his head began to break out with great sores and by the time he was two months his face and head were an awful sight. I consulted a doctor, who said it was nothing but a light skin disease which the baby would soon get over. But he seemed to get worse so I called another doctor. His opinion seemed to be the same. They both prescribed medicine that did not do a bit of good. A friend advised me to take him to the hospital, where a Mexican doctor gave me medicine in a liquid form. It did him no good. "Nearly every day I would read a testimonial in regard to Cuticura and my wife thought I would try it to see if it would help the baby. I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap and after using these he was entirely cured. Before Cuticura cured him he could not seem to sleep, as his face and head would itch so. What hair he had all fell out but soon he had a nice head of hair and his face was perfectly clear. It is now nearly five years since he was cured and there has been no sign of the eruption returning. Chas. B. Evans, 81 Flint St., Somerville, Mass., April 19, 1910."

A single set of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is often sufficient to cure, rendering it the most economical treatment for afflictions of the skin and scalp. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. 22-Mailed free, latest Book on Care of Skin and Scalp.

ROBBERS BAFFLE TUCUMCARI POLICE

Tucumcari, N. M., Nov. 22.—No clue has yet been discovered to the identity of the desperadoes who have molested the citizens of this city for the past three days. On account of the presence of the carnival company and several other shows, it is naturally commonly believed that the criminals are followers of these. One arrest has been made following the holding of the Lobby cafe, but the prisoner was turned loose on account of lack of evidence. No connected story can be obtained from among the five or six patrons who were in the Lobby at the time of the holdup, but from one who saw the robber crossing the street, it is given out that he was a tall man wearing a pointed, campaign style hat. It is reported that Mr. Barkley, one of the proprietors of the cafe, who was present at the time and demanded to "shell out," had on his person nearly $500, which he kept.

L. C. Reddell, the Southwestern fireman who was held up as he was on his way to mail some letters, and lost a gold watch and about $47 in cash, beside some "Dawson script," which his two assailants declared they did not care for and promptly returned, is bemoaning his misfortune. He is of powerful build and had the assailant been single, would undoubtedly have given a different story.

BOY SHOT IN LIP WHEN THIRTEEN SHELLS EXPLODE.

Del Rio, Texas, Nov. 22.—Elmer Johns, 14-year-old son of F. L. Johns, living in the Waterman settlement, a short distance east of Del Rio, was accidentally shot in the upper lip while handling a magazine rifle. The gun was a 22 caliber and contained 13 cartridges, and failed to work and the youngster was attempting to fix the rifle by hammering the magazine. All 13 shells exploded but only one hit the boy. The ball was removed. A brother standing near was deafened in one ear by the explosion.

LOOKS FOR BURIED GOLD IN OLD MAMMOTH

Mine Famous for Its Wealth
Ten Years Ago Is Worked Again.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 22.—In the progressive development of the old Mammoth mine, famed for its riches throughout the whole southwest, there is a probability of the revivification of mining in Arizona.

The mine, owned by the heirs of the late E. O. Hall, is being operated by George U. Young, secretary of state of Arizona, and while he is not exactly suffering from the necessities of life, he has sunk in the mine every dollar he possesses. He stands to win big or go flat broke in the style of the old timers of this section, and there are those who are betting that he will not go broke.

The old Mammoth has a history. It yielded $1,000,000 during the life and operations of Hall, who located it, and upon his death he left his two daughters that he had left $2,000,000 in sight in the property. He also left positive instructions to the girls as to how the property was to be handled. It was out of the question for them to operate it, and Hall knew this. Knowing also the worth of the property, or at least claiming that he did, he impressed upon his daughters a plan for selling it which made possible its working by anyone.

All this was a matter of 10 years ago. Recently, through their inability to dispose of the property, the girls, each of whom is now married, gave Young a peculiar lease and bond upon the mine, and he went to work.

There was the remnant of a stamp mill upon the property. Young built this up with new machinery until he now has 10 stamps in operation, working on the old dump, and he is getting his money's worth from that source. But it is in the bowels of the mine that the fortune, if it exists, lies, and to get that has proven a tremendous task.

Ten years ago many to pass over a mine that is abandoned. These have passed and left their mark. So deep is the mark that it was more feasible to sink a new shaft in order to get to the old workings than it was to reconstruct the old shaft.

Accordingly this was done, or, rather, is doing, and it is now down 1200 feet. The old shaft has been unwielded to some extent by pumps and within two weeks the politician who has turned miner will know the answer to his riddle.

Hall took $500,000 out of one stop in this mine. The ore is a high grade proposition and there should be no doubt of the worth of the mine at present, in view of Hall's statements, but there is a doubt as to the truth of that statement, made upon his dying bed as it was, and a good reason for the doubt. Many, of whom Young is not one, believe that Hall at the time of his death was crazy.

Hall was a poor man. For years, practically all his life, Hall was a poor man. His children had reached maturity before his famous strike was made and they were forced to poverty. Prosperity was a new experience and the hard talons of the gray white ways of the Pacific coast cities caught Hall's son. After a prolonged debauch the son committed suicide and many are there in Arizona who will tell you that Hall was never a right mentally after that event. Hence the doubt of the man's sanity and the concomitant doubt of the truth of his dying statement.

Young, however, was an intimate friend of Hall, and he is a different man, even with him, but during that friendship Young became acquainted with several of Hall's workmen. Two of these are now with him in the mine and they say that the loose ore about the big stop and in half a dozen ore chutes that were cut through on the lower levels will pay big interest and return of principle on money spent to reconstruct the mine, even if not a shot is fired.

It is well known that Hall became so greedy after the gold in his precious rock that he would not allow the men to stop stopping and tunneling long enough to timber properly until they positively refused to enter the dangerous ground.

Is a Hunt for Buried Treasure. The Mammoth, then, presents more of the problems of hunting for buried treasure than of real mining. While the mine, on the well known proposition that a new mine is better than an old one because nothing has been taken out of it, is known to be $1,000,000 poorer than it was when Hall discovered the lead, that there is deep consolation in the fact that Hall said he left twice as much more in the property. It is somewhat like the Peg Leg, the Gunsight and the hundreds of others of the rich mines supposedly "lost," with the saving grace that this one is merely rich; not lost at all.

Not a Lost Mine. Far from being lost, it is hardly likely that there is a mine more easy of access in the southwest. It lies 20 miles from Mesa, Ariz., which is in turn 20 miles from Phoenix, by rail. No railroad runs to the property, but the fine road the government built at a cost of $150,000 for 60 miles from Mesa to the great Tonto dam, passes within 100 yards of the property. This road is as smooth and hard as scientific building can make it, and supplies are no trouble to obtain.

The road from Mesa to the mine is without grade, and the mine is on the same level as the road, thus making an ideal mining condition.

All of Arizona is watching the outcome of Young's colossal experiment in sinking 1200 feet through barren ground in order to discover what a man possibly insane said he left in the ground, while that particular section of the territory within 100 miles of Phoenix is, now that the end is in sight, fairly agog with excitement.

HAS TITLE BUT NO WORKING CAPITAL

Espiritu Santo Directors
Plan Sale to Proposed Reorganized Company.

Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 22.—Overtures are being made towards the sale of the stock of the Espiritu Santo Gold-Silver company to a new corporation to be organized for the purpose, which will be in reality a reorganization of the company. There will be a special meeting of the stockholders of the company in Bisbee, Ariz., on November 24, when action will be taken in the matter.

The Espiritu Santo company has now acquired full title to its mining properties after several years of litigation. For the original purchase of the property the legal costs during the litigation and other incidental expenses the entire issue of the 40,000 shares has been used. The property is now awaiting development and there is no money in the treasury and no means of raising the necessary funds without increasing the capital through some plan of reorganization. The property of the company is located near Arizpe, close to the Chispa mine, probably the richest silver mine in the state of Sonora.

The Cananea-Boston company has ceased work in No. 1 shaft and is giving attention to the Reeves shaft, which has reached a depth of 85 feet, with very good indications. No. 1 shaft of the Juanita Mining company has reached a depth of 110 feet. The bottom is still in leached material, with stringers of copper. No. 2 shaft is down 50 feet and considerable zinc and lead have been encountered. M. Patterson of that company was in the city from Bisbee this week examining the property.

J. J. Holman of the San Salvador property brings the report that the shaft is down 80 feet. The galena ore which was recently encountered has been passed through and the shaft is now bottomed in an oxidized ore which runs fairly high in silver. A 10 stamp mill is being erected at the Esmeralda mine of the Victoria Mining company at La Colorado.

A. V. Conrad manager of the Sonora Copper company, which is erecting a smelter at Noria, states that the plant will be ready for operation early in 1911.

The Sonora Verde mine, owned by Philadelphia interests which is located in the Sierra Azul mountains, is at present being developed on a small scale. Twelve men are employed under the supervision of Ernest Holt. The shaft is being sunk on a 10 foot ledge containing gold and copper.

Dwight E. Woodbridge, a mining expert from Duluth, is in the city in the capacity of consulting engineer for the Calumet and Sonora company.

A strike was recently made at the Amella mine of the Mexican Metals company, which is located 20 miles west of Carbo. At a depth of 200 feet the shaft entered a body of ore which gave an assay of 12 percent copper and 10 ounces in silver.

The Mexican-American Smelting and Refining company, which will soon blow in the Guaymas smelter, is busily engaged in contracting for gold, silver and lead ores.

A large force of men is at present employed at El Triunfo mine upon work on the new smelter which will soon be blown in, and in the mines of the company.

The Montovo shaft of the Santa Fe Consolidated company is showing up exceedingly well on its 200 level. Considerable silver-lead ore has been opened up.

At the Rosales mine, located in Sonora, south of Douglas, Ariz., a vein has been opened up for over 70 feet which averages 15 inches in width. Assays on samples averaged $90 in silver and copper. Between $20,000 and $30,000 worth of ore has been blocked out and shipments will be begun in the near future.

LOWER LEVELS OF DENN MINE FLOODED

Two Large Streams Encountered and Work Is Temporarily Suspended.

Bisbee, Ariz., Nov. 22.—Two large streams of water flooded over 200 feet of the lower levels of the Denn mine, the water rising from the 1500 to a point 35 feet below the 1500 foot level. The water came from a vein which was drifting at the depth of 1800 feet and so great was its volume that the pumps were not able to cope with the situation and were soon submerged.

It has been announced that an efficient pumping system will be installed at the mine at once, but it will take some time to rid the mine of the water and to resume development work. The company, however, is by no means discouraged, as from the geological nature of the ground the presence of water indicates, proximity of ore bodies.

MACHINERY EN ROUTE FOR DEADWOOD MINE

Work on Pipe Line Started and Cross Cuts Are Run.

Mogollon, N. M., Nov. 22.—At the Deadwood mines high compression oil engine, pipe and other machinery is en route from Silver City to Mogollon and should arrive at the works during the week. Work on the pipe line has been started. Cross cuts are being run both ways from the 500 foot station in the shaft in the foot wall to open up the new vein recently encountered and into the hanging for the Last Chance and Queen lodes. A large ore tonnage will thus be made available.

The Perseverance shaft has been re-entered and the mine will be thoroughly sampled in the lower workings.

The Mogollon Gold and Copper company's development on the various groups continues with good results. The Treasure Mining and Reduction company's plant started, but found it necessary to close down at intervals to make slight adjustments and alterations of the machinery, such as all mills experience in turning over the wheels. The hydro-electric power plant is reported working satisfactorily.

Miners' quarters and other buildings are being constructed to aid in the development in progress in the Gold Butte mine. In the Tribby group a vein of good ore is being developed in the 200 foot level.

At the Ernestine Mining company's plant 25 stamps were dropped from the sixth to the 10th and 20 stamps on the 11th and 12th, crushing 643 tons in the seven days, from which were produced 46 sacks of high grade concentrates. Precipitates were smelted yielding 6123.60 Troy ounces of refined gold and silver bullion. Headings were advanced 96 feet during the week, the 11th level west continuing in the phenomenally rich ore encountered several weeks ago.

The vice president, treasurer and other Socorro officials arrived at the mines from the east and found everything running smoothly in the plant, and the shaft crew making good headway sinking. Development in the lowest levels continues producing high grade milling ore.

WESTERN BANK AND TRUST CASE IS CALLED IN DALLAS.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 22.—The case against Fred Flemming and W. C. Witwer, officials of the defunct Western Bank and Trust company, indicted for receiving deposits when the bank was insolvent, was called in the criminal district court. Judge Say granted the attorneys for the defence time to move for a continuance.
